

WHAT IS THE IASC ?

Illinois Association of Snowmobile Clubs (IASC) is a not-for-profit corporation whose membership is comprised of Illinois snowmobile clubs. Its officers and members are volunteers who come from all walks of life. The IASC is comprised of eleven geographical regions. Each region is comprised of clubs within its area.

HISTORY

The IASC was formed in 1972 as the first unified voice of Illinois snowmobilers. The IASC initiated the Illinois snowmobile Safety Education Program (SEP). Early years were spent as a watchdog for legislation unfavorable to snowmobiling and promoting legislation favorable to snowmobiling. The Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR) is the government agency responsible for regulating snowmobiling in Illinois. Since 1977, the IASC has continually to improve the relationship with the IDNR. The results have been beneficial to snowmobilers in the State of Illinois.

ILSNOWMOBILER MAGAZINE

The Illinois Snowmobiler magazine is an informative snowmobile publication available today. With an emphasis on the Illinois reader, the magazine covers Illinois trail and snowmobile related events, local club and state news, plus snowmobiling opportunities in other states. Publication is October through March and is offered now online through IASC website only.

ILLINOIS SNOWMOBILE CLUBS BACKBONE OF THE SPORT

Snowmobile clubs are the strength of the sport, not only in Illinois, but across the snow belt. Without snowmobile clubs, there would be no snowmobile trails in Illinois today. Who gets the landowner's permission for trails? Who marks and groom the trails? Who volunteers to teach our children the safe way to ride snowmobiles? The snowmobile club members do.

PERSONAL BENEFITS

A prime reason to join a snowmobile club is not just the sense of responsibility of doing something positive for the sport. The best reason to join a snowmobile club is to have more fun. Snowmobiling is a very social sport. We like to share it with others. It is much more fun to be with a group than to snowmobile alone. Snowmobile clubs provide an opportunity to meet other people with the same interest. You'll discover new places to ride, plus take club trips. Even the work parties become fun because of the camaraderie. Club events such as hayrides, picnics, campouts, and dances are held to keep the fun going all year long.

CHOOSING A CLUB

Most snowmobile clubs in Illinois are members of the IASC, the parent organization representing the sport of snowmobiling in Illinois. There is 50+ clubs throughout the state, with one close to you. The IASC will be happy to refer you to a club in your area. We can even help you start a new club if you wish. If there are several clubs in your area, visit them, then make a choice and join. Annual family membership dues are typically averaging thirty-five dollars.
